"Weekends Were Made for . . ."

Well, actually lots of things. For instance, what's a weekend without a game of pool with friends? Or a trip out to the lake just to relax? Whatever kids do for recreation, it helps to take the pressure out of the hectic week before. Dallas is the center of activity in the Southwest and people in Carrollton take advantage of it. Sports provide enjoyment for many students at N.S.H.S. Sunday is the day to toss a football around with the guys, to shoot a few baskets, or to visit the recreation center to brush up on gymnastics. Many find working out on the weights at Nautilus a great way to relieve tension and help get in shape. Some students think it is really fun to go bowling or to go roller skating (although others prefer ice skating.) During the warmer seasons, swimming provides a "cool" way to show off a figure or to get a golden tan. It even helps tone muscles. Galloping across a field is commonplace for those who own horses and ride everyday. There are a few lucky people who travel to relax. Skiing is really big in Colorado, and it takes a lot of skill (and courage) to slalom down the slopes on the powdery snow. Water skiing is a little more common in Texas, and Dallas offers several nearby lakes where skiers can go to enjoy nature, fishing, or perhaps hunting. Although some people won't set foot in a crowded mall, others practically live there. Shopping for clothes can take forever, but some, especially girls, actually enjoy shopping. Wondering where to eat takes up much of everyone's time. "Should we eat hamburgers? How about pizza? Maybe tacos? Or should we eat some place nicer, like Steak and Ale? Baby Doe's? Vincents? Or do you want to go to the Magic Pan?" The list goes on and on. Dallas has a fine array of restaurants and just about any kind of fast food available. (NSHS was the home team.)

The Varsity Trojans suffered another disappointing season; however, only through the won-loss column. The final record, 3-6-1 was not indicative of the experience earned for next year's competition for a 6-4A title. This year's schedule pitted NS against the varsity, as well as junior varsity teams. The Trojans ended the year on a winning note which set a positive attitude towards next year. In the finale, the Trojans looked irrepressible by racking up 34 points. It was by far the most exciting game of the year. R. L. Turner was the opponent. R. L. Turner will also compete in 6-4A next year.

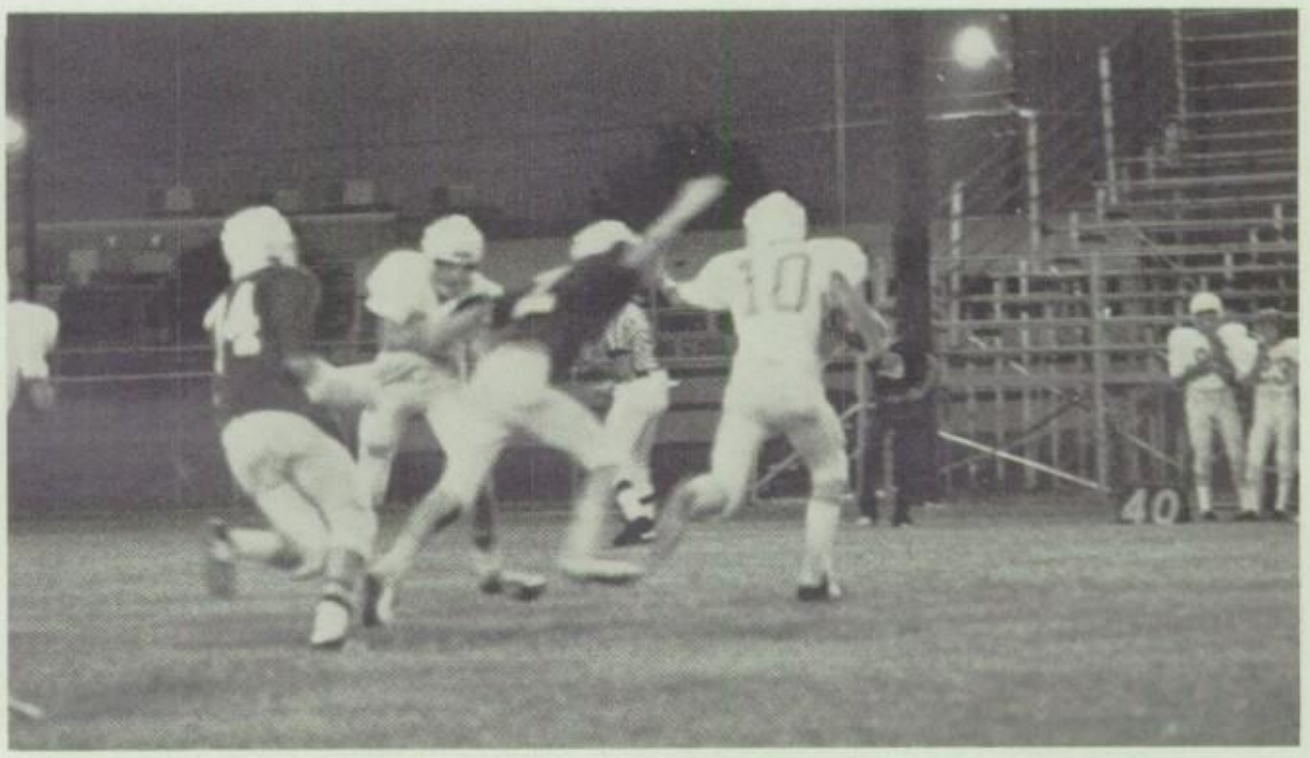
The NSHS junior varsity football team experienced its share of ups and downs this season. Their record, however, was indicative of more downs than ups. Perhaps, their losses were due to the demanding schedule they encountered. It could be said that the opponents had the home-field advantage since almost every week the Trojan JV traveled on the road. Even though the team experienced "temporary setbacks" the JV players' hustle and spirit could not be stifled.



Frosh End Season With 3-5-2 Record

Practicing early in the morning and after school, freshman football players followed a tough workout schedule. Coached by Al Hawes, Andy Coleman and Rick Flanagan the freshmen learned basic football plays and strategies. "Our record wasn't as good as we hoped for," said Coach Hawes, "And although we were lacking in size we have much potential in our freshman athletes."

Eighth Plays Tough

This year's eighth grade football team was split into two teams. Despite the A-team's 2-7-1 record and the B-team's 3-3-3 record, they gained invaluable experience which will be helpful to them next year. Coach Davis said, "The teams had some bad breaks during the season but hung in there and gave it all they had." The eighth grade coaches are Jeff Davis, Roger Goldsmith and Dennis Hutcherson.

Teamwork, concentration, stamina and skill are all aspects of the varsity volleyball squad. A good player must have all necessary skills such as bumping, spiking, setting and blocking in order to be an asset to the team. The volleyball enthusiasts consisted of five Juniors and five Sophomores. The overall record for the varsity squad was 9-11, with district record of 4-6. Ms. Alma Ramsey commented, "We had a building year. We tremendously improved in our skills. We could have been a defensive team only, but we tried instead to be both defensive and offensive."

TOP RIGHT: K. Willis, T. Mayo, M. Nelson, C. Coody, G. Redden, A. Lorenzen, D. Carter, N. Smith, D. Edwards, C. Czarny. Back row; Coach Alma Ramsey, D. J.V. Volleyballers Have 4-6 Season

The Junior Varsity volleyball team completed their season with a 4-6 record. Their overall record was 7-9. Volleyball is a sport which requires six players on the court, and the J.V. squad ended a successful season with only seven members. This gave each player a chance to play more often and gain more experience. The team was under the supervision of Coach Debbie Hall.

Frosh Volleyballers Display Efforts

The freshman volleyballers had a successful season under the coaching of Ms. Sharon Driggers. The frosh placed 2nd in the Plano tournament and had a 5-5 record in district competition. The complete season record was 11-7. The squad carried a black cowboy hat to every game as their good luck token.

The WHITE team's final record this year was 5-12. Although they played others, the strongest rivalries with Perry and Field claimed to be Trojan success with respective records of 2-0 and 2-0. Head coach of the WHITE Team was Brenda Bolin.

The Junior Varsity practiced long hard hours working to prepare themselves for the 77-78 season. 8th A-B Teams End Season With Winning Record

Basketball takes great coordination, skill, and self discipline. Practicing early in the morning, 8th graders ran through various basketball drills and exercises. Both A and B-Teams did very good in regular season and in district play. The A-Team is coached by Roger Goldsmith and the B-Team is coached by Jeff Davis.

Varsity Cagers Play Half-Court Ball

The Girl's Varsity basketball team had numerous difficulties and obstacles to overcome in their challenging season. The girls found that basketball must be their top priority while in training in order to have a successful season. Many had to make sacrifices with work, rodeos, cheerleading and even boyfriends to fulfill their obligations to the team. Due to Mrs. Driggers, maternity leave the team had a change of coaches in midseason. Coach Hunnicutt was their coach for a month. The district games proved hard for the girls. Their district included last year's state contenders. The half-court roundballers competed in two tournaments in early season; winning the consolation bracket in the Greenhill tourney. Guard, Dee Edwards, was voted "All Tournament Player" in the Greenhill and McKinney tournaments. Leading scorer for the Trojans was Gina Redden with 396 points while Jackie Greenwood earned 351 for the team. Theresa Simmons added 320 for the team. The varsity season cagers finished their season in mid February with a 9-21 record. Although the team of five juniors and five sophomores encountered several problems, they managed to stay together as a team and had a satisfactory season.

J.V. Girls Change to Full Court

The Junior Varsity girls basketball team waded through a difficult season. The change from half to full court presented a great challenge for the girls, yet not one that could hinder their determination, spirit, and team work. The change to full court did, however, play an important part in scoring. The roundballers were low scorers, which caused winning to become a tremendous task. The J.V. team, coached by Alma Ramsey, consisted of ten sophomores and one junior.

8th Grade Girls Have Two Teams

The eighth grade "A" and "B" basketball teams proved to be rather successful in competition. Because of great interest for the indoor sport, there were enough participants to make up two teams. The roundball enthusiasts improved as the season progressed, competing with the Lewisville, Plano, Denton, and Carrollton-Farmers Branch districts. Coach Brenda Bolin supervised both teams.

Being a First Can Bring 1st

Wrestling is a sport which has grown in the past few years. This was the premier year for wrestling at NSHS. It is a sport which demands much physical and emotional training. Wrestlers worked rigorously learning techniques and building their strength and stamina. Coach Dennis Hutcherson took a team of inexperienced wrestlers and made winners out of a young team.

Frosh Display Effort, Energy

The freshmen girl's tracksters had ample time for the '78 season. In addition to a daily workout after school, the frosh worked out during their 4th period athletics class. High jumping, hurdling, running and throwing shot-puts proved to be a new challenge to many. Ms. Dustin also coached the freshmen.

Varsity Track on the Run

What's that rumble in the hall? It's the girl's track team running hurdles in the halls or practicing a relay. With all the snow this year, Coach Dustin had to utilize any available space where the team could workout. They set up the high jump in the gym, so that the girls could be ready for district competition. Many freshmen competed in Varsity meets along with the upper classmen since there was a lack of interest in track this year.

Speaking Out for Students

NSHS's Student Congress acts as a government for the student body. The Senate members talk to Mr. McKinney about the students' problems and they suggest answers. The Senate sponsors school service projects, such as selling student directories, and pottery, homeroom volleyball intramurals, and a spring talent show. These Senators are the voice of NSHS.

Preparing for Future Years

The Eighth Grade and Cadet Bands are often overlooked but should not be. The Eighth Grade Band is commonly heard practicing fundamentals of music during the morning. The Cadet Band, or freshmen band, takes part in the Trojan Marching Band, and also stresses fundamentals. The Cadet Band also spends much time working on contest material. All of the hard work these two bands do is to be commended.

The marching band, composed of the Cadet and Trojan Bands, provides enjoyment to many people when they play and march on the field during halftime. The freshmen marched with the Varsity band so they would be prepared to march when the others had graduated. Mr. Geyer directed the band and under his leadership, the band members came early in the mornings to practice and perfect formations for the next game. The band encountered a major problem — their uniforms did not arrive on time. They still performed, however, and at the last game of the season against Turner, they proudly displayed their uniforms. They also exhibited their skill during their formation of the wagon wheel as drum major Curtis Eng, and the other members, boogied on the field.

Concert Band Competes in UIL Tourney

The NSHS Concert Band is composed of the best band players. Among these students are members from the Trojan Band and the Cadet Band. During the year, the Concert Band competed in many contests including UIL Solo and Ensemble Contest in February and UIL Concert and Sight Reading Contest in March. The band was involved in many activities to raise enough money for a trip to Silver Dollar City, Missouri. They will be there for three days competing in a Band Festival. The Band Booster Club aided the band members by setting up such activities as selling Nestle bars, plant food, newspapers, and aluminum cans. The band members also helped take inventory for Sanger-Harris. During May the band conducted a Band Awards Concert at NSHS.

Chants and Cheers

Through shopping for uniforms and attending SMU cheerleader camp, the eight Varsity Cheerleaders learned to work as a group. Every morning the cheerleaders plan pep rallies, work on routines and make up chants. Not only do they practice at school, but they also practice at each other's houses. These girls, despite bruised limbs and sore muscles, build spirit during pep rallies and football games to encourage the Varsity teams.

Pep Come on Now

The eighth grade cheerleaders have a unique situation at NSHS. They build the spirit and unity of their first year, they have learned new chants, formations, and cheers.

Gotcha, Checkmate!

B-Q2[3] . . . QPxB?[1] . . . N(K4)-Q6ch . . . No, this is not a new algebra form (heaven forbid!) or even a simplified chemistry equation. This is chess notation. It is of particular use to members of the Chess Club. With beginning players learning the game and more advanced persons improving their games, the Chess Club members learned to recognize moves, competed against R. L. Turner in the annual tournament and sponsored an all-school chess tournament. According to Mr. Jim Elliot, sponsor, who often plays two or three games at once, some people are so good that they can play chess blindfolded. No one in the NSHS Chess Club can do that — at least not yet.

Working for Credit

Conducting monthly meetings and luncheons the DECA members combine fun with work. In February several students participated in an area meet. Heidi Broyles, John D'Agostino, Arleen Furey, Curtis Jordon, Cindy McKenzie, Vicki Meador, Karen Porter, and Cathy Ulland were among those who took part in the meet. DECA also has plans for a school supply store to be located within NSHS.

Putting a Kick Into Halftime

"All my life I want to be in drill team — Work! Work!" The Troy-Anns, despite many difficulties, have emerged as a full drill team. They practice early morning, first period, and sometimes afternoon in heat or cold to perfect their routines. Stretching out tight muscles and kicking over their heads are daily exercises. They usually have only four or five days to learn each routine for the halftime, try out and work on another routine for the pep rally. Although they have no place to practice, they work out on the parking lot in their tights, t-shirts and curlers.

Spontaneity Makes It Happen

They said it really couldn't be done. No one expected it . . . but it happened! In the first year of concentrated competition, under the direction of Ms. Mildred A. Peveto and Ms. Michelle Le Blanc, the NSHS Speech and Drama Squad won sweepstakes at the Hillcrest Speech and Drama Tournament. Amidst cries of "You've got to have spontaneity!" The NSHS team also swept the R. L. Turner Tournament, one of the largest in Texas. The NSHS Speech and Drama Squad was headed by Dee Dee Green, president, Robin Edwards, vice president; Stephanie Penland, secretary; Jennifer Golden, treasurer; and Betsy Blythe who was in charge of public relations. Competing strongly, several members qualified for the state competition in Waco. Perhaps the best thing about the squad, though, is the fact that no one will be graduating. So, "break a leg, team!"

Lights, Camera, Action!

Let it snow, right? Wrong! A "winter wonderland" was the last thing the cast, crews, waiters and waitresses of GODSPELL wanted. After weeks of work and rehearsals which included weekends and the Christmas holidays, opening night arrived only to see the show cancelled, due to the weather. Overcoming disappointment, everyone worked to make this Newman Smith "first" a success. January 27 found the dining room filled with the aroma of spaghetti as such characters as Scarlett O'Hara, Raggedy Ann and Andy, Winnie the Pooh and Superman dashed around, trying to please patrons. Though there had been complaints about the $5.50 ticket price, GODSPELL cast its spell and became the talk of the town, with most people feeling that it was worth the money.

E Pluribus Unum

You might recognize this phrase as the words which are on all U.S. money, but to members of the Latin Club, this means a little more. For one thing, they can translate it — "One out of many." In between translating phrases and studying Greek and Roman history, the NSHS Latin Club was a success in its first year. Members join the Rodeo Team for the bull riding, bronc busting, chute dogging and goat tying. Or perhaps just because it is in their blood. Gimme a Left, Right, Left

Though we see members almost everyday, few of us know just what ROTC does. ROTC stands for Reserved Officers Training Corps and at Newman Smith, is affiliated with the Navy. Though the group is small and is combined with R. L. Turner's ROTC, that does not limit their wide range of activities. They have a drill team which performed at pep rallies and some members shoot on the rifle team, practicing regularly at the Naval Air Station. Learning naval courtesy, how a ship is operated and becoming physically fit are stressed by ROTC. Members attended a boot camp in the spring and sold fruit cakes to finance a trip to Norfolk, Virginia.

During football season, it seems like everyone wears a green and gold uniform on game day, including the Spiriteers. Karren.
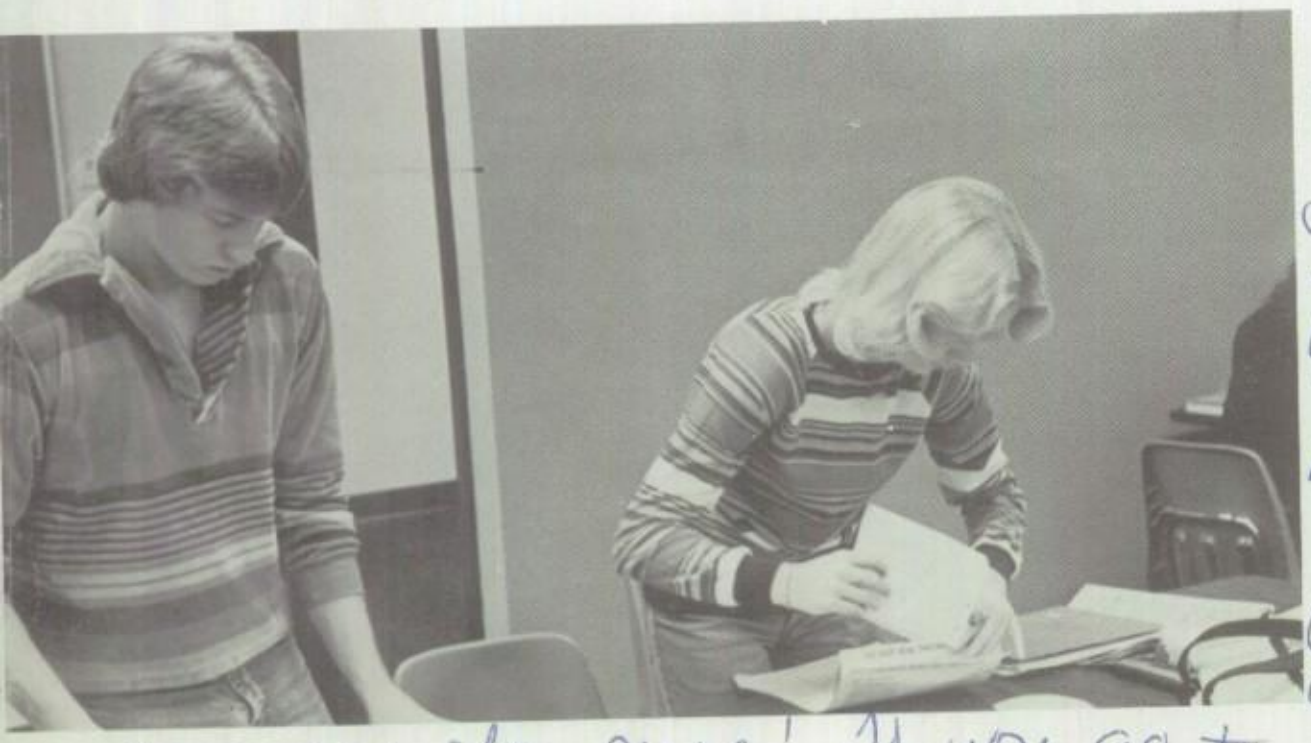
It was alright getting to know you during lunch this year. Take it easy this summer and see ya next year.
Love,
Mark Eason



Summer for sure! If you go to the lake, be good, but if ya can't be good, be good at it! Keep in touch, & and I'll see ya next year! Love ya, Kim Long

Staff Wars?

It all began during the summer of '77 when six members of the annual staff left for a yearbook workshop at UTA in Arlington, along with five newspaper people and a new teacher. After a water fight, staying up till three and getting up at seven, a blueberry pancake contest, a visit to Six Flags, and birthday donuts, they finally settled down.

When they returned, a program of selling ads, for the first time ever, began. Despite football practice, drill team practice, basketball practice, or whatever, they still managed to sell enough to cover the extra cost of the larger (and better) yearbook. There were still more obstacles to overcome, however, and the staff had to work these out and produce a yearbook at the same time. Well, first they had to break in the new teacher, or perhaps she had to break them in. Then, one member left for Lewisville (Lisa Starke), another left for Southlake (Laura Chambers), and still another left for Mississippi (Julie McDonald). The biggest adjustment was to the new editor (Mike Iglesias) and assistant editor (Carrie Cessna) after the old one left (Al Lofenzen) for Iowa. They had to learn all the fine points that only the editor and advisor know while the old editor was still here, so they could continue to work after she left. Another problem was who they were going to get to fill in the open staff positions. Three were finally chosen; one was a sophomore, Lisa Moore (there are only two on the whole staff), another was a junior, Denise Parker, and the last was Rick Turner, a junior. The photographers printed and developed their own pictures and things got a little hectic at times. It turned out okay, though. (Well, almost.) The parties were fun, even though BP doesn't know how to draw a map to Garland. Sometimes the staff would have to stay late to finish their pages before a deadline, but the pizza afterwards made up for it. Although many problems arose, everyone survived, and some actually admit they loved every bit of it!
